

Insurance Research
Center (IRC)
(Affiliated to Central Insurance of I.R Iran)

Call for Papers

Iranian Journal of Risk and Insurance (IJRI)

Iranian Journal of Risk & Insurance (IJRI) is a high quality print peer-reviewed biannual research and promotional journal that is published by Insurance Research Center (IRC Publications). The goal of IJRI is to publish the most recent results in the development of the topics it covers. It serves as a platform for the researchers, academicians, professional, practitioners and students to divulge and share their knowledge and expertise with their peer academicians.

IJRI cordially invites all authors to send their high quality theoretical, empirical, unpublished and original research papers, case studies, review papers, literature reviews, conceptual framework, analytical and simulation models, academicians, professional, practitioners and students from all across the globe.

Welcoming high quality studies, IJRI will cover all the following topics and at the meantime is not limited to:

Actuarial Science, Insurance Economics, Insurance Management, Risk Management, Insurance Law, Insurance Mathematics, Insurance Marketing, Strategic Management in Insurance, Human Resource Management in Insurance, Supervision and Regulation in Insurance, Financial Issues in Insurance, Corporate Governance in Insurance, Reinsurance, Interaction of Capital Market with Insurance Industry, All Insurance Lines and Business.

The submitted papers will be refereed based on their quality, clarity, originality, correctness, and contributions to research resources by the IJRI editorial board comprising of highly qualified local and international experts. Theoretical as well as empirical papers are encouraged.

All paper submissions will be handled electronically through the single email: ijri@irc.ac.ir. The general requirements of the paper format and author's guide are provided in the IJRI website: ijri.irc.ac.ir.

Researchers and authors are also invited to participate in the peer-review process of IJRI papers if your research interest matches with the themes of the present Call-for-Papers.

Date of Publishing: Twice a year on April and September.

Acceptance Notification: Within two months from the date of manuscript submission.

Submission deadline: The submission is open in all months.

For more information about the journal and the editors, please contact: ijri@irc.ac.ir or call: 0098-21-22084084 (Exp.143).